

HUMANIZATION

Today health is the main men and women worry. New technology development and the application of brand new methods to the sociosanitarian world has improved the sick people conditions. Nevertheless, no machine can substitute the healer effect of a look, a couple of hands, an adequate word or the opportune silence. The human presence is irreplaceable in the illness, pain and death processes.

At the midst of the eighties, the friars Camilos elect to work for the humanization of the health world and for the social action. A fruit of this compromise is the San Camilo Site, a centre in which sick assistance and caretakers' education in the humanization sensibility are intimately related.

▣ EDUCATION

The knowledge of this technique is necessary to assist the sick, but it is not enough. The health humanization needs a specific preparation of the professional and of the voluntary who approach the person so that this feels himself attended in all his dimensions.

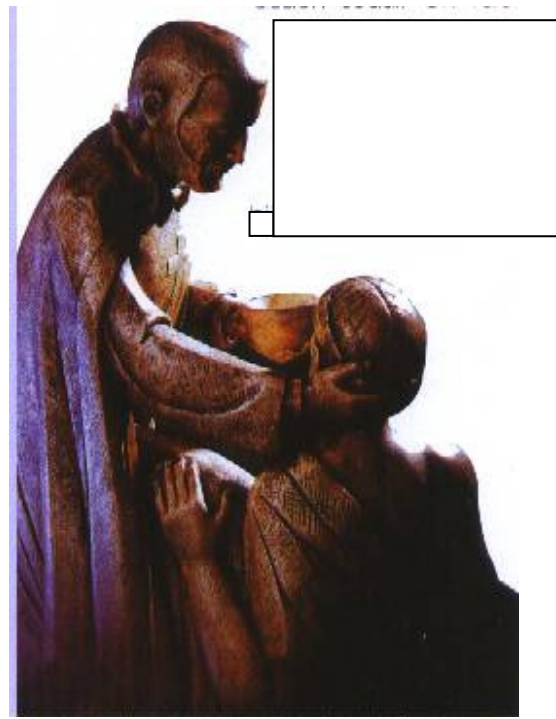

Good will is not enough, although it is necessary, to assist the sick in a humanized way. The Camilos Friars, with more than 400 years of hospital experience, are conscious of the need of education to acquire knowledge in the humanized task

▣ ASISTENCE

San Camilo Site is a bet for the man. Persons are assisted in this way in his most vulnerable stage trying to take into account all human dimensions: physical, emotional, psychic, relational and spiritual.

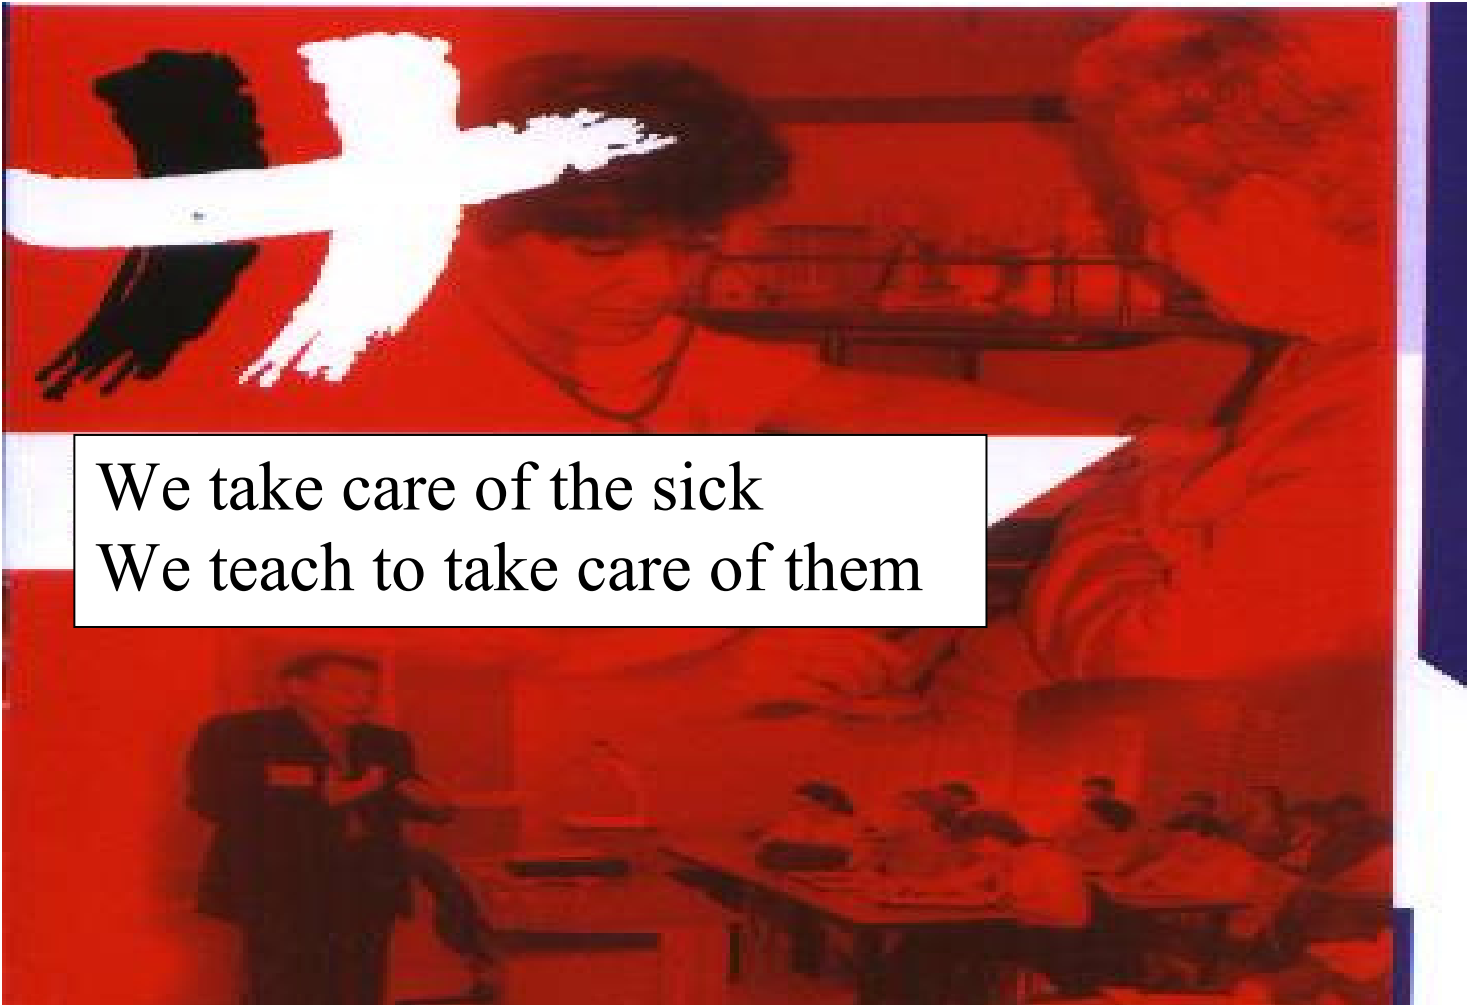

▣ WITH THE HEART IN THE HANDS

Humanization in the assistance is the application of the emotional intelligence in the health and social action world. As soon as the sixteenth century a sanitary attention reformer said that the objective was “to place the heart in the hands” and “to take care of the sick like a tender mother takes care of his sick only child”.
